The practice of Japa Yoga and mantra chanting is a very good way to protect the psyche from negative astrological forces.

"Know your astrology, rituals, worships, remedies and you begin to control your destiny"

Each action has a fruit and it depends on many factors:1)sincerity in action.2)the purpose of action,3)the means chosen, and4)righteousness of action (Dharma).One reaps the fruit if one's actions.Apart from the direct result of action or its effect on the surroundings, each action creates an impression on its doer.These impressions accumulate and constitute the karma of the individual.Any action done in the present is aided and affected by the impressions of previous actions.Thus Dharma forms basis for Karma, and many principles are consequent of the Karma theory,like:-
1)Don't hurt anyone.2)Do unto others only what you want to be done unto yourself.3)Do those actions that bring happiness to oneself and does good to others.4)Do not speak harshly.5)Wish only good for others.6)Do not hesitate to take up cudgels to protect dharma

When men are thus good and cooperative to each other, social well-being is caused. If for some reason it is disturbed, it would be restored sooner or later, either because men realize the order going bad or because nature intervenes to restore the order. karma is simply equated to yajna in the Veda. This is because in the Vedic sense all life and all action is Yajna, and thus karma = yajna. The Veda refers to karma in this sense, throughout. Example:-The Mother Goddess Durga is praised as the controller and giver of the fruits of action, "karmaphaleshu justam" (Durga Suktam, Taittiriya Aranyaka).
